Product Guarantee and Continuity of Supply

Technology Desking's products are guaranteed against manufacturing specification defects and materials failure for a period of 10 years from the date of supply (5 years on electrical height adjustment and 1 year on PCB components). Please note that all guarantees will be subject to the following:

1. The correct installation procedure being completed by competent and trained personnel.
2. The product has been subject to fair wear and tear.

Technology Desking is committed to the continuing availability of its products; our standard continuity of supply is 10 years from date of purchase order. Our policy is one of continual product improvements and as such we reserve the right to make detailed changes to the aesthetics and performance of our products without prior notice. We guarantee that any changes or replacements to our product range will have the same functionality as any product previously supplied.

The commitment to the above guarantee is subject only to the ongoing availability of any 3rd party material supply i.e. desktop finishes, fabrics, etc.
