

OPENEST

COLLECTION BY PATRICIA URQUIOLA

Flexibility I think is mixed with the idea of comfort – Creating more kinds of comfort zones, people, when they arrive at work, they need to feel well. This idea was the first step to create Openest.

– Patricia Urquiola

A modern interior space featuring a grey sofa with a yellow and grey cushion, a small white table with a cup, and a large orange wall. The floor is white, and there is a yellow rug. The text "People need flexible, comfortable spaces to interact or work alone." is overlaid on the right side of the image.

People need flexible,
comfortable spaces to interact or work alone.

Spaces that are warm, and inviting.

Spaces that balance
visual privacy. Spaces
where teams or individuals can gather to share ideas or just relax.

Openest is an ensemble of lounge furniture for the new landscape of today's work environments.

Designed for Haworth by Patricia Urquiola, Openest is both playful and poetic, yet pragmatic and functional.

Inspired by Patricia's passion to create new experiences for people, Openest elements present visual and tactile softness through it's simple graceful pieces.

Feather sofas and Chick poufs offer
approachable comfort
that adapts to people's needs.

Plume Screens made from familiar textiles put the body and mind at ease.

Sprig tables
accompany seating elements where surfaces are needed.
