Brunner crona steel

My Profile:

I love the sunshine! And yes, the rain and snow as well. It's always the right weather for me: I'm the robust outdoor type - entirely made of powder-coated steel. But I also have my soft side: the ergonomic flat steel struts of my seat in their typical crona design. Yes, I'm comfortable - and adaptable: depending on what you need, I come in seven different colors, and I am also available with arm rests and outdoor seat cushions if desired - and you can stack me to really save space. What are you waiting for? Come on outside!

Pair me with:

My ideal companion is the delicate crona steel bistro table, whose slim legs are playfully crossed while also providing great stability. Like me, it's designed for permanent outdoor use. When I'm indoors, I harmonize perfectly with the break bistro table as well as the entire crona collection. Thanks to our uniform design language, we always create a harmonious overall image.
