Lounge Seating

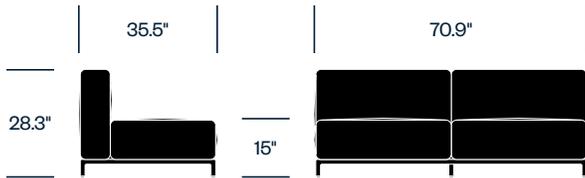

With a variety of modular seating elements and configurations available, the Mex-Hi lounge system is extremely versatile. The platform structure consists of five different size bases, upon which armrests, backrests, and seats are fastened to create a whole collection of pieces that work together. Create inline, island, or corner applications to fit any space. Manufactured with innovative materials to be both comfortable and environmentally conscious, the cushion padding's recycled content is derived entirely from ocean plastic.

Features
