Be_Hold

Storage

Giving people variety and choice for their spectrum of work activities helps increase employee performance and engagement. Be_Hold® modular storage supports individual needs through an array of accessories, personalization, and active storage options—all in one platform.

Be_Hold storage is a complete solution for ease of planning and space optimization across an open floorplate. Its residential warmth and premium workspace details contribute to inviting spaces in a global design that ranges from restrained to expressive.

No Space Goes Unused

Be_Hold allows ease of planning and space compression in the same coordinating storage system, addressing the shrinking workspace through a smaller footprint. Like urban planning, every space and component has a function, making it easy to leverage vertical space.

Expansive Scalability

Design flexibility transforms work environments. Our most expansive storage line, Be_Hold offers scalability for new levels of refinement, customization, and choice for personal storage. With matching high-pressure and thermally-fused laminates (HPL and TFL), Be_Hold provides all the flexibility designers need for easy specification in a cohesive design.

Designed for Proven Performance

Be_Hold storage is made from glue-and-dowel construction—built to last, with quality engineering, durability, and customization in space planning. With its minimalistic aesthetic and broad statement of line, Be_Hold is designed and constructed as a good investment for the long-term.
